PRIORITY POINT POLICY:

Priority points are assigned to all exhibiting companies and are used to assign booth space in descending point total order per specific AWWA conference. Priority points are earned as follows:

- a) Actual number of booths occupied at immediate past AWWA Conference. 1 point is accrued for each booth unit.
- b) AWWA membership (must be active until the end of the conference dates). 1 point is earned.

The numbers will be added together to arrive at the total priority points for the company for next year's specific conference. The total is what will determine your company's booth placement for the following year's specific conference.

There are no other means of earning points.

Annual Conference Booth Placement – Each Company will be given a date and time to come to the on-site space selection area and select their booth based on total points.

Specialty Conference Booth Placement – Point total ties will be broken based on the date and time the application is received.

Once booth assignment has occurred, booths are assigned first-come, first-served. Points are still earned and are applied for future priority booth assignment.

GENERAL INFORMATOIN:

In the event exhibiting companies merge together, are bought out by, or purchase another company; the parent company may choose to use the higher points of the two companies with written consent, therefore eliminate the lower points.

Priority points cannot be combined.

Loss of priority points may occur if the exhibitor does not comply with AWWA Rules and Regulations.

If the exhibiting company decides not to exhibit with AWWA for a specific conference two consecutive years, all accumulated points will be lost.
